

Localization for Greater China Region (GCR) – Microsoft Dynamics Nav (Nav)

ACW solutions Ltd. provides comprehensive and the best of breed information technology solutions to cater different clients' requirements. Our clients include enterprises from multi-national corporations to small and medium business in the Greater China Region.

Our company mission is to provide strategic solutions to improve efficiency the productivity of the company operations with an eventual objective to improve the competitiveness of our clients.

Due to the rapid economic growth in Greater China Region, the demand for localized ERP solutions has increased significantly. ACW solutions Ltd., as the major Microsoft Business Solutions Center in the region, has continued to provide practical business solutions to our GCR customers to achieve their various operations targets.

Microsoft Dynamics Nav Solution for China Market Overview

As China becomes one of the most significant economic entity in the world, companies around the world set up their operations in China so as to catch up with the tremendous economic growth opportunity.

When setting up their operations in China, many foreign companies begin to realize that a system that can monitor the business process is very important. Hence, ERP system is the most suitable solutions for them to tackle their problems.

Microsoft Dynamics ERP solutions

Microsoft, as the biggest software provider in the world, provides the most reliable ERP system to these companies to enhance their operation efficiency. The facts prove that Microsoft Dynamics Nav can assist business in this region to achieve faster business growth.

Reasons for localization

Since different countries have their special business practices, especially in GCR, a customized ERP system is necessary. With profound implementation experience and support workforce in Greater China Region, ACW has tailored localized GCR ERP solutions specifically for companies who are new to this business environment.

ACW fully understands the financial reporting need of multi-national corporations establishing their operation in China. While following corporate requirements to submit reports using the corporate account code and structure, many companies were also late to discover they are demanded to create financial reports of specific format to fulfill the local requirements laid by the Chinese Financial Bureau using Statutory Chinese account code and structure.

Special requirements:

China ERP system certification – Our customized solutions provide the localization pack to meet the requirements of certification process.

Simplified Chinese Language Pack – specifically for Mainland China.

Our Localization Solutions

China Localization Report Pack

In China, different provinces have their own certification requirements. In order to fulfill all these requirements, ACW has developed a China localization pack on based on Microsoft Dynamics Nav which includes:

1. Local G/L Account Mapping
2. Chinese General Journal Form ()
3. Cash / Bank Ledger (/)

